

Balcombe Circular walk

Nymans Gardens (NT), and the ruins of Slaugham

The gardens of Nymans & the ruins of Slaugham

Length 17.6km (10.9 miles), 5 hours. For the whole outing, including trains, sights and meals, allow 10 hours.

Toughness 5 out of 10.

OS Maps Explorers OL34 (was 134) & 135 or Landranger 187. Balcombe, map reference TQ 306 302, is in West Sussex, 7km south-east of Crawley.

Features This walk is full of small delights: a nature reserve and lake with Japanese pavilion down by the stream below the impressive gardens and park of Nymans (National Trust) with its part-ruined manor house; a churchyard in Slaugham (pronounced 'Slaffam') with a 600-year-old yew tree some 10 metres in circumference; the ruins of Slaugham Manor; then a walk down to the River Ouse – with the incongruous sight of a Roman arch and columns in the middle of nowhere – and later up through fields and woods to the fine old village of Balcombe.

Walk Options The second half of this walk is less interesting in some ways, so you could go as far as the Victory Inn in Staplefield and catch Metrobus 271 to Haywards Heath or Crawley. You can also catch this service earlier in the walk, from the Red Lion pub in Handcross. For bus information, call 0871 200 2233.

History The Japanese pavilion in the nature reserve was designed by Lord Snowdon, the owner of this country estate..

Nymans (tel 01444 400 321) is a National Trust garden. Ludwig Messel, who bought Nymans in 1890, sought to show that a more exotic range of plants could survive outdoors in Sussex than previously thought. Its manor house was part-gutted by fire in 1947, when huge slabs of the Horsham stone roof fell through three storeys, and the firemen were hampered by bitterly cold weather – ladder extensions and standpipes froze. The garden has a balcony setting, on top of a hill overlooking a valley. A visit is recommended. Nymans is open daily from 10 am to 5 pm, although the house is closed from November to March. Admission (2018) is £14.00, which includes a 'free cup of tea or coffee in the restaurant when arriving on foot or by public transport'.

St Mary's Parish Church, Slaugham, has a Norman font made of Sussex marble with a fish symbol on it. There is a brass in the church to John Covert, who in his will left 200 marks to his daughters, even if they married without consent to men without land – but only if the men 'have virtue and cunning which seemeth as good as 100 marks' worth of land'.

Slaugham Place, now in ruins, was once a great Elizabethan manor house. It was the residence of the Covert family, who in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries held land extending from the English Channel to the banks of the Thames. It is now a popular venue for wedding receptions, complete with helicopter landing space.

Travel Take the train nearest to 9.40am from London Bridge Station to Balcombe. Journey time 40 minutes. On Sundays the service is from Victoria; journey time 50 minutes. Trains back from Balcombe are hourly.

If driving, Balcombe Station has a small car park (£2.50; free on weekends and Bank Holidays).

Lunch You can choose between two pubs in Handcross, The Red Lion (tel 01444 400 292) (a Chef & Brewer pub), and The Royal Oak Inn (tel 01444 401406). If you are visiting Nymans, another option is the NT restaurant there.

Regrettably (August 2017) what was the suggested lunch stop on this walk, 2km further on, just under halfway round the walk, The Chequers Inn at Slaughtam, closed down again in May 2017 having been refurbished and having re-opened as recently as June 2016. The reports on Trip Advisor from January 2017 were quite awful. If the pub re-opens again, it will be noted in these details.

For a late lunch, if you can make it in time, you can try The Victory Inn (tel 01444 400 463) in Staplefield.

Tea The recommended tea place is the Balcombe Tea Rooms (tel 01444 811 777), which offers a good selection of home-made cakes. It is open until 4pm (but is closed on Mondays); they like large groups to call in advance and will stay open a bit later if necessary.

Stronger fare is on offer at the nearby Half Moon (tel 01444 811 582), a community pub.

Updates [All editions] You must use the online version, as the safe crossing of the A23 (motorway) is now open. The route directions have been updated to use the new underpass. Latest closure of the Chequers Inn at Slaughtam also noted (August 2017).

Historical Note: When the A23 became too dangerous to cross, the walk was diverted along roads, crossing it on a road bridge. In 2014, the road was upgraded to a motorway, and a new pedestrian tunnel was opened on the route of the old public footpath. So now the walk is back to its original route.

Walk Directions

- [1] Coming off the train from London at Balcombe Station, go over the footbridge and down the platform on the other side. Exit to the right just before the tunnel, then go through the car park, due south. Where this approach road meets the B2036, take the signposted footpath to the right, downhill and heading south-west. In 15 metres cross a stile and in 20 metres cross another, to go down steps (which are very slippery in wet weather, so make use of the handrail on your left), to come out onto a lane at the bottom.

2. Carry straight on towards the cottage for 25 metres (over a stream) and [2] take a signposted footpath to the right over a stile, heading north-west.
3. Go uphill near the field edge on your right-hand side. In 60 metres go through an open fieldgate or through the wooden swing gate to its right and continue uphill. In 125 metres go over a stile at the top of the field and bear left, now with the field edge on your left-hand side.
4. In 125 metres go through a field boundary and continue ahead (note the communication tower disguised as a tree on your right). This brings you in 175 metres to a car-wide unasphalted road.
5. Continue along the road, still heading north-west. In 70 metres, just beyond a large wooden shed, take the road fork to the left following the footpath sign, heading west.
6. Keep on this road, ignoring other possibilities. In 170 metres bend left with it (ignoring a signed footpath off to the right). You pass a pond on your right-hand side, then a house on your left, but keep on towards the barn sheds. When you reach these, veer to the right of the large shed ahead of you.
7. In 125 metres keep to the main farm track as it bends right, then in a further 125 metres follow it round to the left.
8. In 175 metres, 10 metres before your farm track is about to reach the first trees of the wood, fork left, your direction due south, on what is soon a footpath parallel to the farm track. (This is the official path, although simply staying on the farm track for the next 75 metres would bring you to the same place.)
9. [3] In 75 metres go over a stile and turn right by a three-armed footpath sign, with the edge of the wood now to your right, gently downhill, your direction 240°.
10. In 150 metres you have, at least in winter, a pond below you on your right, and you bear right, still keeping the edge of the wood on your right-hand side.
11. In 250 metres go over a stile with a metal fieldgate and a horse jump to its right and with a small pond beyond, and continue on, in the direction shown by the footpath sign, still with a line of trees on your right-hand side.
12. In 150 metres cross a stile next to another horse jump to continue down a path into the woods.
13. In 75 metres, at a path junction, bear left following the footpath sign on a wider path, but in 20 metres turn right downhill, in more or less your previous direction, now 240°. Go down steps (with a wooden railing on your right-hand side) to cross a stream on a two plank bridge, and follow the path up steps on the other side.
14. About 100 metres from the footbridge, at the top of the slope turn left at a T-junction with a wider track, then in 10 metres veer right towards a gap in the hedge 30 metres away. Go through this gap, cross a tarmac road and head straight ahead on the entrance drive to Ditton Place (marked on the OS map), your direction now 260°.
15. In 250 metres, after passing the "Waterside" development on your left, and when still 60 metres from the main building, bear left on a car road following a footpath sign on your right-hand side, your direction now 240°.
16. 100 metres down this road, go through the metal kissing gate on your right-hand side to continue downhill through a field in more or less the same direction, now due west, with the field edge on your left-hand side.
17. In 175 metres go through a metal kissing gate and head down into a wood, soon bearing left on this path which runs parallel to the stream and pylons on your right. In 200 metres cross this stream on a wooden two plank bridge to continue southwards, now on the opposite bank.
18. [4] In 30 metres, by a two-armed footpath sign, take the right-hand fork uphill, your direction 210°. In a further 50 metres, at the top of the slope, bear left following the footpath sign.
19. In 125 metres, exit the wood by a redundant stile. An unofficial path cuts diagonally across this field to the far right-hand corner, but the public footpath turns right and goes around two sides of the field. Either way, exit the field by a metal fieldgate and turn right to pass under electricity cables. Continue through another metal fieldgate.
20. In 40 metres go through a wooden swing gate and turn left onto a concrete farm lane, as shown by a footpath sign, to head south-west.
21. In 80 metres you come to a junction in the farm track; go across this, turn right for 10 metres, then go left on the footpath by the three-armed footpath sign. Go through a metal gate (usually open) to continue on a wide grassy path, downhill, your direction 240°, with a wooden fence on your right-hand side.
22. In 100 metres cross a stream on two planks, then go through a wooden swing gate to continue with the field hedge on your right-hand side, your direction now 300°. Where the hedge ends, continue across the field towards the left of the house ahead of you. Go alongside its garden fence and across its driveway.

23. At the end of the field, go through a wooden swing gate and head down steps into a wood. Continue along a boardwalk to pass Lord Snowdon's lake with Japanese pavilion on your right-hand side. Cross a footbridge over a stream and go up to a T-junction with a car-wide track.
24. Turn right here, following the footpath sign, to head north-west. In 45 metres merge with a track from your left and continue ahead, soon with another large lake on your right (you are now on National Trust land, part of the Nymans estate).
25. [5] In 200 metres you pass a footbridge on your right (which follows the Millenium Walk) and in a further 100 metres you come to a two-armed footpath sign on your right, and (with the Woodland Walks straight on) you take the footpath fork uphill to the left. This path soon bends to the left, with a valley below you to the right.
26. Follow this attractive path through the woods for 750 metres, ignoring all ways off, with a gorge down below on your right. After climbing gently uphill, a wider path merges from the left. Now cross a streambed with wooden handrails on both sides and then in 10 metres [!] fork left on a narrow path uphill, as indicated by a public footpath sign.
27. After climbing uphill for 200 metres, sometimes on earth steps, you cross a farm track to continue uphill. (A gate off to the left here would take you into Nymans gardens, but visitors, even National Trust members, are expected to use the official entrance further on.)
28. In 200 metres, after climbing steeply, you come to Nymans car park. If you wish to visit the gardens or the NT restaurant, go through the wooden fieldgate on your left and up to the entrance. Otherwise, continue for another 100 metres to the B2114 and turn right to reach a possible lunch stop, the Red Lion, at the road junction. Note : The Chequers Inn in Slaugham, 2 km further on, CLOSED DOWN yet again, May 2017.
29. The onward route here is to turn left on to the B2110, signposted Cowfold and Horsham (if coming out of the pub, turn right). Cross the bridge over the A23, continue past All Saints Church and keep ahead on the B2110 at the mini-roundabout, now signposted to Lower Beeding.
30. [6] In 125 metres, just past The Royal Oak Inn on your right-hand side, another lunch option, turn left up a driveway with a concrete public footpath marker. 45 metres up this path, follow it round to the left, past allotments on your right. In 50 metres, bend right with the path in front of a hedge, then in 30 metres go through a broken wooden swing gate and continue ahead between hedges, your direction 140°. In 60 metres you come out on a car lane and turn right, initially heading south-west.
31. Continue on this lane, ignoring turn-offs. In 500 metres you pass a couple of practice starting gates for horse races, then in 225 metres detour around a set of iron gates to continue on the lane.
32. In a further 500 metres, go through a side gate to the right of a large white-painted gate blocking the lane to enter the village of Slaugham. In 125 metres you pass what was the suggested lunch stop, The Chequers Inn, on your right-hand side (CLOSED DOWN again, May 2017).
33. Keep ahead across a minor road and through the lychgate into St Mary's Parish Church. Go past the (closed) west door and veer left, ignoring a footpath which continues straight on. Just past the south door entrance, veer right on a path through the churchyard, soon passing the 600-year-old yew tree on your right-hand side.
34. Where the gravel path ends, continue ahead, slightly left, on a grassy path and leave the churchyard through a wooden swing gate, entering Church Covert (owned by the Woodland Trust). Follow the footpath sign half-right downhill across a field, heading south-east, with the ruins of Slaugham Place ahead on your left.
35. In 180 metres go through a wooden swing gate, beside a two-armed footpath sign and keep ahead on a path between fences, your direction now 160°, with the ruins on your left-hand side. In 85 metres veer right with the path to circumvent the garden of the cottage ahead of you.
36. On the other side of the garden, cross a wooden bridge over a stream and go up to join Moat House's driveway. Continue ahead, with the stream and ruins to your left. In 100 metres you meet a car lane.
37. There is now no need to detour to avoid the dangerous crossing of the A23 as the new underpass under it has at last opened.
38. [7] Do not turn left along the private road, but instead cross this road and a track to cross a stile following the direction of a two-armed footpath sign, ahead up a field, following its right-hand edge with a wood on your right. In 70 metres the path swings slightly right and you keep ahead, your bearing now 100 degrees, towards a stile in the field boundary ahead. In 80 metres cross this stile and keep straight ahead with a wire fence to your right. In 100 metres, at a T-junction at the far end of the field, turn right, parallel to the A23 down below you. In 60 plus metres turn left through a wooden swing gate to descend concrete steps with a metal handrail, and down to the surfaced cycle path beside the A23. Turn right along this path and in 15 metres fork right to descend to the underpass, which you turn left to go through.
39. On the far side of the tunnel, turn right and follow the path uphill. At the top the path swings left through a wooden fieldgate and you keep ahead to a two-armed footpath sign. Follow the sign, uphill, with a wooden fence on your left-hand side. In 70 metres go through a wooden swing gate into a field. The way forward is not obvious. Bear half right towards the brow of this field and then veer right and head towards the far right-hand corner of the field, to a metal kissing gate. In 110 metres pass through this gate and head down the left-hand side of a field. In 85 metres cross a stile and continue ahead, curving with the field boundary, uphill. In 60 metres cross a stile, now with the farm buildings of Stanbridge Grange farm on your right-hand side. In 45 metres pass through a metal farm gate, painted white, and keep ahead, along the farm drive, passing on your left a pair of semi-detached cottages, and in 60 metres you to come out onto a minor road.

40. Turn left along this road, your direction 25°. In 220 metres you pass the gated entrance to Stanbridge House on your left-hand side. In a further 150 metres the road crosses a stream.
41. In a further 30 metres, [8] turn right, to follow the direction of a footpath signpost, passing through a metal fieldgate. Follow the footpath across the field, with a stagnant stream on your left, your direction 100°. In 150 metres cross two, two plank bridges with a stile between them and bear left, your direction now 50°, with a hedge on your left-hand side.
42. In 180 metres [!] turn left through a gap in the hedge to pass through a wooden swing gate. Do not turn right but keep ahead, slightly left, through a wooden kissing gate, to go along the right-hand edge of a field, with a hedge on your right. Keep ahead, on a bearing of 335°, and in 525 metres exit the field, and come out onto a car road, opposite a village green, where you turn right.
43. In 100 metres you come to the Victory Inn on your right-hand side, a possible late-lunch stop. In a further 50 metres, you cross the B2114 to continue straight on, uphill. In 175 metres, you pass St Mark's Church (which is usually locked) on your left-hand side.
44. 300 metres beyond the church, you pass Jasmine and Heron Cottages on your right-hand side, to keep on the main road. In a further 190 metres, ignore Rose Cottage Lane to your right and stay on the road, signposted Balcombe.
45. [9] In a further 250 metres – just past the entrance drive to Tyes Place (marked on the OS map) and by a footpath sign on your right – turn half-right into the driveway of North and South Meadow Cottages, heading south-east.
46. In 80 metres you pass the cottages and bear left with the driveway. Pass to the right of Old Hall Farm Cottage and take a narrow path half-right to exit its garden into a large open field. Bear left, following the footpath sign, to head east along the left-hand edge of this field. The intriguing castle-like Old Hall is away to your left (but mostly hidden behind trees), with its own mini-crystal palace beyond it.
47. In 300 metres, having curved right with the field edge, note the arch with Roman pillars in the field to your left. In a further 40 metres, at the bottom left-hand corner of the field, go through a gap in the hedge into a lightly-wooded area and follow the path to the right.
48. The path - muddy in places for much of the year - soon has the River Ouse on its right. In 400 metres, cross the river by a wooden bridge, following the footpath sign.
49. Head uphill on the other side, between fences, your direction 150°, towards a gate in the hedge at the top of the field. Go through this and continue along another fenced-in path to reach Sidnye Farm (marked on the OS map).
50. At the farm, bear left, following the footpath sign. In 25 metres, at a three-armed footpath sign, bear left again, passing the large corrugated iron shed on your right-hand side and heading due east. Veer slightly left around another farm shed to go straight on past two cottages on your left-hand side.
51. Keep on the farm's driveway. In just under 1km, you come to a T-junction with Rowhill Lane, where you turn left downhill.
52. In 180 metres you pass the entrance to Hillside on your left-hand side and, in a further 120 metres, you cross the River Ouse.
53. Instead of bending right with the lane here, go into the field on your left to continue straight on uphill (due north, towards a red-brick house visible on the horizon), with the field edge on your left-hand side.
54. In 250 metres you come up to a lane. Turn left here and then in 15 metres turn right up a narrow path, passing a redundant stile to continue northwards in a large field.
55. In 250 metres [!] bear right through a wooden swing gate to continue uphill towards a stile in a hedge. In 80 metres cross a two-plank bridge, go up three steps to cross this stile in the hedge and bear left uphill, keeping the hedge on your left as you pass the red-brick house over to your left.
56. In a further 250 metres, you come to the brow of the hill (with fine views behind you). Continue for 50 metres with a hedge on your left, then go gently downhill on a car-wide track into Pilstye Wood. 50 metres into the wood, you pass an impressive rock outcrop split by tree roots on your left-hand side.
57. [!] In another 50 metres, an earth car road merges from the right but instead of joining this, follow a footpath sign to take a narrow track opposite and slightly to the right, now going more steeply downhill. In 40 metres, bear right with this path to follow the direction of a footpath sign, north-east, heading downhill and with a new plantation on your right-hand side.

58. In 200 metres exit the wood by a bridge with wooden railings over a stream, to go up steps and through a metal kissing gate. Here the footpath sign points straight uphill (due north), but if the field is planted with crops with no clear path through them, you may prefer to detour to the left to go around them on the field edge.
59. On the far side of the field do not go through the metal fieldgate but take the stile to its right to go on a narrow path, with a fence on your left and woodland sloping away to your right. In 60 metres you come out on to a main road, the B2036, where you turn left, due north. In 75 metres you pass a house on the other side of the road.
60. You can shorten the walk here by continuing ahead on the B2036, crossing a small grassed area to then take the footpath ahead of you which runs parallel to the road, which in 500 metres comes out at the entrance to Balcombe Station's car park.
61. For the main route through Balcombe village (with its pub and tearoom), cross this busy road carefully and go up a tarmac lane, following a footpath sign, your direction initially 140°.
62. In 100 metres you enter the drive of Kemps House (marked on the OS map), with the house on your left-hand side. Having gone through a wooden field gate and passed the house, bear right to leave the property by a wooden gate, heading downhill. A path brings you in 50 metres to a new metal footbridge over the main London–Brighton railway line.
63. Cross over the railway bridge and on its far side continue up the path, parallel to the tracks. At the top go through a metal kissing gate and bear right, with the field edge on your right-hand side, towards the houses ahead, due north.
65. In 100 metres continue on, now with playing fields on your left-hand side. At the far end of these, continue on a tarmac lane past a pavilion and Balcombe Parish Church Room on your left-hand side. On reaching a road, turn left.
66. At a T-junction in 75 metres, either turn right for the Half Moon pub or bear left and cross the road to the recommended tea place, the Balcombe Tea Rooms.
67. To get to the station, continue down the road past the tearoom, reaching London Road in 180 metres.
68. Here you can go directly to the station by turning left on to this main road, reaching the entrance in 350 metres.
69. For a more pleasant but circuitous route, cross straight over London Road to continue down Rocks Lane, your direction 210°. Keep on this road as it passes under the railway bridge after 300 metres.
70. In a further 300 metres, you come to a T-junction by a stream, where you turn left, following the footpath sign. Go up the steps you came down at the start of the walk and turn left at the top into the approach road to reach Balcombe Station. Trains to London leave from the near platform.
