

Cowden to Hever walk

A contrast between a remote part of the Weald and three attractive and popular Kent villages

Length	Main Walk: 16½ km (10.3 miles). Four hours 5 minutes walking time. For the whole excursion including trains, sights and meals, allow at least 8 hours 30 minutes. Circular Walk: 19½ km (12.1 miles). Four hours 55 minutes walking time.
OS Map	Explorer 147. Cowden station, map reference TQ476417, is in Kent, 6 km SE of Edenbridge.
Toughness	4 out of 10 (5 for the Circular Walk).

Features This walk starts from a lonely station and wends its way through remote valleys, woods and tiny settlements in the undulating landscape of the High Weald. It descends into the Eden Valley for refreshment stops in the beautiful villages of Penshurst and Chiddingstone, before ending in Hever. Each of these three villages has an interesting church which is worth visiting, as well as a popular historic house open to the public.

Penshurst Place is a well-preserved medieval manor house with an attractive formal garden, the home of the Sidney family since the 16thC. It is open weekends from mid-February to March, and daily from April to October; admission (2018) is £11.50, or £9.50 for the gardens only.

Chiddingstone Castle is a castellated manor house rebuilt in the 19thC, containing an unusual collection of art and curiosities left behind by its recent owner, Denys Eyre Bower. It is open Sun–Wed from April to October; admission (2018) is £9.50.

Hever Castle, the childhood home of Anne Boleyn, was restored in the early 20thC by William Waldorf Astor and features some spectacular gardens. It is open daily from April to October and on some dates in November and December; full-price admission (2018) is £17.25, or £14.50 for the gardens only.

The second half of the Main Walk will be familiar to anyone who knows the Hever to Leigh walk (1–19), but the recommended lunch and tea stops are in different villages and the only significant overlap is the section from Chiddingstone to Hever (done here in the reverse direction).

The Wealden soil does not drain well and parts of the walk can be muddy even after moderate amounts of rain.

Walk Options

A longer variation lets you complete a Circular Walk back to Cowden station. This includes some nice views as you descend from Markbeech, but the narrow footpath leading to this village can be both muddy and overgrown.

Two short cuts are described which bypass Penshurst and Chiddingstone, saving 3½ and 1¾ km respectively. Missing out either of these attractive villages is not recommended but they have been included to allow more time to visit one of the historic houses.

An earlier version of this walk included directions from Penshurst and Chiddingstone to their nearest stations (on the Redhill–Tonbridge line); these link sections can now be found in the Leigh and Penshurst walk (#92).

Transport

Hever and Cowden are adjacent stations on the Oxted–Uckfield line, which has an hourly service from London Bridge, taking 45 minutes to Cowden (longer on Sundays, when you have to change at East Croydon and/or Oxted). For all the walk options, buy a return to Cowden.

If you want to finish the walk in Penshurst village, Metrobus 231 & 233 combine to give a regular bus service (Mon–Sat) to Edenbridge in one direction and Tunbridge Wells in the other.

If driving, Cowden has a small free car park but this is likely to be full on weekdays. At Hever a large new space has been cleared for car parking which is free at the time of writing, but this may change.

Suggested Train

Take the train nearest to 10:00 from London Bridge to Cowden.

Lunch

Unless you are bypassing Penshurst, the suggested lunch place in this village is the refurbished Leicester Arms Hotel (01892-871617), after about 7 km. This up-market establishment has a large garden and serves food until around 2.30pm (4pm Sun).

As an alternative you could detour to the Porcupine Pantry (01892-870307), just outside the main entrance to Penshurst Place and open daily to non-visitors; it has indoor and outdoor seating and serves light lunches and afternoon teas, but might struggle to cope with a large group. There is also a tearoom in the village, but the Fir Tree House (01892-870382) does not open until 2.30pm.

An early lunch option might be the attractive Rock Inn (01892-870296) in the hamlet of Hoath Corner, but this pub had a long spell when it was not serving food so call beforehand if you plan to stop there. Later in the walk at Chiddingstone the Castle Inn (01892-870371) reopened in April 2017 and first impressions are favourable: the food and service are very good and it has a particularly attractive back garden.

Tea

The popularity of Hever, Chiddingstone and Penshurst ensures a good choice of tea places on this walk. The Tulip Tree (01892-871504) in Burghesh Court, behind the Chiddingstone Stores, is a popular tearoom which is open daily to

5pm. On days when it is open you are spoilt for choice as you can visit the equally good Chiddingstone Castle Tea Room (01892-872746) and explore the grounds without necessarily paying to visit the house.

The nearest pubs to Hever and Cowden stations are both 1½ km away, so time your departure carefully to catch one of the hourly trains. In Hever village the King Henry (01732-862457) is open all day. On the Circular Walk route the Greyhound (01732-862221) is usually closed in mid-afternoon, but the Kentish Horse (01342-850493) in Markbeech is open all day.

Walk Directions

1. Cowden Station to Chiddingstone Hoath (3 km)

From the platform¹ go out through the entrance hall, turn right and take the left-hand of two ways out to a minor road. Go uphill on this road for 100m, then turn right into Wickens Lane, signposted as a public footpath. Continue along this lane for 400m, passing the entrances to Rickwoods House and Rickwoods Farm.

Shortly after the lane has gone downhill and curved to the left, turn left at a footpath sign to go up a track leading to an isolated house. As you reach its front garden, cross a stile on the right and continue across a field to the right of the house, aiming for a gap in the hedge ahead. Go over a stile here into a large field.

There are two footpaths ahead but no clear paths on the ground. Do not head for the pair of stiles directly ahead but turn half-right, aiming for another pair further away. After crossing these keep ahead towards a footpath marker post at the top of a long curving valley. Head towards the trees on the right-hand side and go over a stile onto a woodland path running alongside the valley. At the end another stile takes you back out into the valley.

Follow a grassy path along the centre of the valley for 500m, heading E. The next turning is easy to miss. About 125m before the valley narrows to a small gap in the trees ahead, veer left towards an isolated oak tree, beside which there is an inconspicuous stile on the tree boundary. Go over this and follow a woodland path down a slope and across a stream on wooden planks.

On the other side turn left, ignoring a path off to the right. In 40m fork right at a path junction to climb through the trees, heading N. Keep ahead where the path levels out and a wider path joins from the right. The woodland path ends at a gate where you go out into a field. Continue in much the same direction near its right-hand edge to the top corner.

In this potentially muddy area go through a metal kissing gate a little way to the left of a fieldgate onto a narrow path through some trees. This soon comes out into a field where you go along its right-hand edge, soon ignoring another footpath off to the right. Continue alongside the hedge for 200m to the field corner and go through another kissing gate onto a minor road just outside Chiddingstone Hoath.

2. Chiddingstone Hoath to Salmans Manor (2 km)

Cross the road carefully and continue on the footpath opposite, with a wooden fence and a driveway on your right. After climbing gently for 100m, fork left to come out of the trees onto a large field on a plateau. Head N on a grass strip across the middle of the field for 300m. At a track junction on the far side turn right to reach a road.

If you want to detour to the Rock Inn in Hoath Corner, follow the directions in §2b.

a. Main route

Turn right briefly onto the road. In 60m turn left onto a broad grassy track (if the metal fieldgate is locked there is a stile on its right). There is a steep drop beyond the trees on your left and in fact you are walking along the top of a large sandstone outcrop. After slowly descending you emerge from the trees and continue along the right-hand edge of a field. Go over a stile at the end and turn right.

b. Route via the Rock Inn (+350m)

Turn left onto the road. Follow it downhill into a dark cutting between rocks and tree roots, taking care as there is no pavement. As you emerge into the hamlet of Hoath Corner there is an impressive sandstone outcrop in a depression on the left. Follow the road round to the right at a junction to find the Rock Inn on the right-hand side.

From the pub, return to the road junction and keep left. Bear left at a public footpath sign onto the driveway in front of some houses and continue on a broad grassy path going downhill between fences, veering left at the bottom into Puckden Wood. Keep right to stay near the edge of the wood at first. After the path bends left fork right to climb gently through the trees and go over a stile at the top to leave the wood. Go across a field on a faint grassy path to the far right-hand corner, over another stile and turn right.

Go along the field edge; soon you might be able to glimpse Penshurst Place 3 km away to your left. Leave the field via a stile in the corner, go down an earth bank and turn left onto a track. In 100m continue on a path to the right of "Skipreed", which soon comes out into the top of an attractive large field.

Follow the enclosed tree-lined path down through the field. At the bottom cross a stile and continue through a wood. In 100m follow the path briefly round to the right, but almost immediately turn left by a low wooden marker post onto a narrow path through some trees to a stile.

Go over the stile and keep ahead along the edge of Harden Vineyard. After passing this continue through a metal kissing gate into a small fenced-off field and leave it through a similar gate in the far corner. Bear left on the other side to go across a small enclosure and through a wooden kissing gate into a field. Turn right and go along its right-hand edge, with another view of Penshurst Place ahead, now 2 km away.

Near the bottom corner, go through a kissing gate and down a small flight of steps. Turn right onto a tree-lined track, which in 100m comes to a fieldgate. Go through it (or a wooden side gate) onto a tarmac lane at a bend by the buildings of Salmans Manor.

If you are taking the short cut omitting Penshurst, go to §6.

3. Salmans Manor to Penshurst (1¾ km)

A short detour up the lane to the left would give you a fine view of a large mill pond opposite a particularly attractive oast-house conversion.

To continue the walk directly, turn right onto the lane and follow it briefly as it curves left. Where there is a "Private Road" sign ahead, turn right onto a wide track with a bridleway marker, heading SE. In 100m this comes to a tall hedge, where you turn left through a metal kissing gate onto a narrow fenced path. Follow this around two edges of a large field and eventually through another kissing gate in the opposite corner. Follow the enclosed path to a footbridge taking you over the River Eden².

On the other side turn half-right and go across a patch of grass. Go through a small metal gate (to the right of a fieldgate leading into another field) and up the left-hand edge of a large field. In 300m this leads onto a concrete lane by some houses. Now simply follow this lane for 600m until it comes out onto the B2188 by a school on the outskirts of Penshurst.

Turn left and follow the road into the village, passing some attractive old buildings³ and in 200m coming to a junction with the B2176. The Leicester Arms Hotel is just up ahead on the right.

4. Penshurst to Wellers Town Road (3 km)

If you want to take a short cut out of the village, simply head north on the B2176 and turn left after 200m into the lane to Salmans Farm, resuming the directions at [•] below.

For a more interesting route out of Penshurst, turn right out of the Leicester Arms to briefly head E on the B2176. Just before the road turns right, a short flight of steps on the left leads up to the picturesque houses in Leicester Square⁴.

If you want to visit Penshurst Place or have lunch in its café, follow the directions below.

- Detour to Penshurst Place (+1 km)

Continue on the road past Leicester Square and keep ahead through a stone and brick archway onto the access road to Penshurst Place. Along the way, you get a glimpse of the gardens through a locked gate in the high brick wall on your left. At the end of the wall turn left to find the Porcupine Pantry 200m away, behind the large car park and next to the visitor entrance to the house and gardens. Afterwards, return the same way to the B2176 by Leicester Square.

Go up the steps into Leicester Square, joining the Eden Valley Walk⁵ (EVW). Go under an archway⁶ into a churchyard and take the path round the left-hand side of St John the Baptist's church⁷ (which is worth visiting). Leave the churchyard through a metal kissing gate and continue on a grassy path, soon with a fine view of Penshurst Place behind the hedge-topped stone wall on your right.

Where the path splits fork left, heading NW across the grass towards a metal kissing gate 200m away. Go through the gate and turn sharp left onto the B2176, briefly heading back towards Penshurst. In 125m, just after a 30mph road sign, turn right down the lane to Salmans Farm, signposted as a public bridleway.

[•] Continue along the lane (the old coach road), in 500m crossing the River Eden. Soon afterwards fork right up a track, with increasingly fine views over the Eden Valley on your right and later with a huge array of polytunnels in the fields on your left. Continue on the main track for 1½ km to the derelict farm buildings at Wat Stock and keep ahead where a lane (the short cut from Salmans Manor) joins from the left.

Continue along the lane as it passes a pond and bends right. 150m after this bend bear right onto a track and go through a gate to the right of a metal fieldgate. Head diagonally across a field on a grassy path and leave it through another gate to emerge on a minor road.

If you are doing the full walk via Chiddingstone, go to §7.

5. Wellers Town Road to Hill Hoath direct (1 km)

Cross the road (slightly to the right) and go over a stile onto an attractive woodland path. In 400m leave the wood through a gate and continue on a grassy tree-lined path, coming to a fork in 50m.

For the short cut omitting Chiddingstone keep ahead, staying on the EVW. In a further 200m, veer left towards farm buildings and pass to the right of them. Bear right in front of some stables onto a lane, going past a few cottages in the hamlet of Hill Hoath. At a junction with a lane coming up from Chiddingstone (the full walk route), turn left.

To continue the walk, go to §9. You will now be following the Walk 1–19 route (in reverse) to Hever.

6. Salmans Manor to Wellers Town Road direct (1¼ km)

For the short cut omitting Penshurst, turn left onto the lane to head N, soon passing a large mill pond opposite a particularly attractive oast-house conversion. At the top of a slope keep left, avoiding the entrance to Abbotsmerry Barn. The lane (now unsurfaced) continues between hedges, then into a wood. After passing a large pond it veers right and left and goes past some cottages. Turn left at a T-junction in front of the derelict farm buildings at Wat Stock, joining the full walk route and the Eden Valley Walk⁵ (EVW).

Continue along the lane as it passes a pond and bends right. 150m after this bend bear right onto a track and go through a gate to the right of a metal fieldgate. Head diagonally across a field on a grassy path and leave it through another gate to emerge on a minor road.

7. Wellers Town Road to Chiddingstone (1½ km)

Cross the road (slightly to the right) and go over a stile onto an attractive woodland path. In 400m leave the wood through a gate and continue on a grassy tree-lined path, coming to a fork in 50m.

To go through Chiddingstone take the right fork (as indicated by a sign on a tree to your right), leaving the EVW. In 200m, where a path joins from the left, veer right through a gap in the hedge into a large field. Do not take the path straight ahead but immediately turn left onto a broad path going up the field edge.

You will now be following the Walk 1–19 route (in reverse) through Chiddingstone to Hever.

Follow the path uphill and round to the right, passing an isolated tree in the field. On the far side continue on a path between hedges, which leads down to a street. Turn left into Chiddingstone, where in 30m you could make a short detour to see the Chiding Stone⁸.

- Detour to the Chiding Stone (+250m)

Turn left onto a signposted path to the Chiding Stone, where there is an information panel. Either return the same way or (if a gate in the wooden fence on your left is unlocked) cut through the village's Community Garden and continue between the Village Hall and Primary School to the street.

Continue along Chiddingstone's picturesque village street⁹. Opposite St Mary's church¹⁰ the Tulip Tree tearoom is up a short driveway behind the Chiddingstone Stores. The Castle Inn is the last building on the left, where the road turns sharply to the right.

8. Chiddingstone to Hill Hoath (1¼ km)

At the right-hand bend a gate in the wall ahead leads into the grounds of Chiddingstone Castle. The route through them in §8b is not a public right of way but you could take this if they are open (there is an Honesty Box for donations).

The grounds are not very large but include a tearoom, an attractive lake and some pleasant woodland paths beyond the lawn at the back of the house.

a. Route along public roads

Continue along the road for 500m, with some views of the castle beyond the lake on the left. At a crossroads turn left onto a lane, soon passing the main entrance to the castle (the exit for the alternative route).

b. Route via castle grounds

Go through the gate and follow the path as it curves round and crosses an arm of the lake on a footbridge. The entrance to the house is up ahead; to go directly to its Tea Room without visiting the house and its collections, turn left and go round to the back of the house to find the gift shop and tearoom in the far corner.

Afterwards, return to the front of the house. Go past the entrance on your left and continue along the driveway as it curves round to the right past a vehicle barrier.

The driveway leads out to a lane where you turn sharp left, almost doubling back.

Stay on the lane as it heads S for 700m, passing some private exits from the castle grounds. As you enter the hamlet of Hill Hoath turn right at a junction onto a short Private Road signposted as a public bridleway, rejoining the EVW.

9. Hill Hoath to Hever (village) (2½ km)

Go along the lane, passing a renovated half-timbered cottage and some houses. At the end, keep ahead on an earth track heading W, taking care as you cross the first of several rides laid out with horse jumps. At the top of a small rise the path goes through a sandstone rock cutting, then descends. Shortly before the end of a field on your left, fork right onto a woodland path which crosses more horse rides.

The path soon goes down a flight of steps and across a stream on a footbridge.

Continue on a narrow (and potentially muddy) enclosed path as it zig-zags right and left, later crossing a lane onto a similar path opposite. This eventually passes a cottage and comes out onto a driveway where it meets a private road.

Cross over the road on your right and follow a short path round to the left past some bushes, soon coming out onto a grassy strip between the road and a wood. After turning right with the road keep ahead on a path into the trees, as indicated. The path later swings left to cross the road on a wooden footbridge, then turns left in front of the grounds of Hever Castle to go alongside them.

Through the trees you can sometimes glimpse events taking place in this part of the grounds, but there is no view of the castle or gardens from the public footpath.

The path eventually crosses a stream and goes up a slope to enter a churchyard. Go past St Peter's church¹¹ and out through its lychgate to Hever Road, with the King Henry inn opposite.

If you want to visit Hever Castle, follow the directions below.

- Detour to Hever Castle (+1 km)

Turn right onto the road. Just past the churchyard, bear right to go through a gateway to the entrance kiosks. The moated castle and its formal gardens are some 400m further on. After visiting the castle, return to the road by the pub.

If you are doing a Circular Walk back to Cowden station, go to §11.

10. Hever (village) to Hever Station (1½ km)

Stay on Hever Road as it turns sharply right by the pub, and follow it for 450m to a T-junction. Turn right, then in 50m turn left through a new wooden kissing gate onto an enclosed path (once notoriously muddy but now surfaced). Follow this path for 500m to reach a minor road at a junction.

You could turn right for Hever station (as indicated by the road sign) but the suggested route is to keep ahead on the road towards Cowden village. Go over the railway bridge (with the station visible on your right), then in 40m turn right into a driveway, still following the EVW. Go through a fieldgate across the drive and take the path to the right of the entrance to the last house. As you approach the station fork right onto a path leading down to Platform 1, for trains to London.

11. Hever (village) to Markbeech (3 km)

On the bend in Hever Road by the King Henry inn, leave the EVW by taking the driveway heading S, signposted as a footpath. After passing Hever Primary School continue on a path which leads to a minor road at a bend. Bear left onto the road for 50m, then veer right up the continuation of the footpath, through a kissing gate into a large field.

Continue to head S, keeping fairly close to the left-hand edge of the field. The right of way is through the trees ahead near the corner of the field, but the path here can be awkward and you could veer a little way to the right where there is a wide gap. In the next field, aim for the left-hand end of the hedge opposite, where it meets some trees. Go over a stile here and turn right to head W, with the hedge on your right. The path later goes gently downhill between fences and comes out onto a road (Uckfield Lane) by the Greyhound pub.

Turn right and go along the road for 125m, then turn sharp left by a house "Wedgwood" onto a signposted footpath. In 350m the path goes under a high brick railway bridge and bends left on the other side. Follow it S through Oak Wood for 800m, climbing steadily. After going alongside a more open area on the left for about 125m, and where the main path veers down to the right, fork left onto a narrow path. This goes between fields and later farm buildings before reaching a minor road.

Turn left and go along the road for 250m into Markbeech (or Mark Beech, according to the road sign). Just before you reach Holy Trinity church there is a signposted footpath on the right, to the left of a broad track.

If you want to detour to the Kentish Horse pub (the last place for refreshment before the station), follow the directions in §11b.

a. Main route

Go over a stile onto the footpath, which goes through a belt of trees into the churchyard. Bear right towards a stile in the hedge.

The track from the road is a more direct route as it passes the exit from the churchyard, but a fieldgate along it is usually locked.

b. Route via the Kentish Horse (+150m)

Continue along the road and turn right at the crossroads to find the Kentish Horse on the right-hand side.

After visiting the pub, go onto the driveway leading to its car park and through a gate into the churchyard. Go past the left-hand side of the church and keep ahead on a faint grassy path towards a stile in the hedge opposite.

12. Markbeech to Cowden Station (1½ km)

Leave the churchyard via the stile, emerging onto a track in front of a field. Turn half-left as indicated, aiming for a footpath marker post on the left-hand side of a wide gap 125m away. Bear left to go down the side of a large field, with views of the South Downs ahead and a wood on your left. At the end of the wood go over a stile on the left into the adjacent field and continue in your previous direction on the other side of a hedge.

In the bottom corner go over a stile and bear left to continue on a woodland path. Shortly after passing the picturesque Hole Cottage¹² in a clearing on the right, fork left in front of a large beech tree in the centre of a three-way junction.

Continue along the woodland path, now with a stream down on your right. Ignore a path down to a footbridge over this stream, but fork right at the next path junction, with a post containing two footpath markers. The path goes gently downhill for 500m, now with the railway (which has emerged from a tunnel) in a cutting on your left. After passing Cowden station, the path goes up to a stile which you go over onto a road.

Turn left to go under the railway bridge and left again into the station's access road. If the entrance hall is locked you can go past it to reach the single platform.

Be aware that this is used by trains in both directions. An Uckfield-bound train normally goes through 7 minutes before the London train, which is going from from left to right.

Walk Notes

1. A plaque on the station platform commemorates the five victims of the Cowden rail crash in October 1994. A northbound train passed a red signal in thick fog and collided head-on with another train on the single-track section to the south-east of the station.
2. The River Eden has its source in the North Downs near Titsey and flows into the River Medway 1½ km downstream, just outside Penshurst.
3. The large horseshoe-shaped doorway in the quaint shop/garage is a relic of its days as the village smithy.
4. Some of the half-timbered and tile-hung houses around Leicester Square (named after a favourite of Elizabeth I) are Victorian imitations, like the post office house of 1850.
5. The Eden Valley Walk runs for 24 km, linking the Vanguard Way to the west of Edenbridge with the Wealdway in Tonbridge. At its eastern end much of the route is actually alongside the River Medway, whereas there are only short stretches with convenient rights of way close to the River Eden.
6. "My Flesh also shall rest in Hope", inscribed above the archway leading out of Penshurst churchyard into Leicester Square, is from Psalm 16:9.
7. The Sidney Chapel in St John the Baptist, Penshurst contains many memorials and a fine armorial ceiling, restored in 1966. By the side altar is the Luke Tapestry (in Greek), made by Penshurst's former village doctor: it honours the partnership between medical science and Christianity.
8. The Chiding Stone is a large sandstone boulder after which the village is named. Nagging wives or wrongdoers were supposedly brought here and told off (chided) by the other villagers.
9. The Streatfeild family sold the buildings of Chiddingstone village to the National Trust in 1939. As a consequence it remains largely unspoilt and has been used as a location in period films, eg. A Room with a View.
10. St Mary, Chiddingstone contains many memorials to the Streatfeild family. On display is a Vinegar Bible of 1717, so called because in St Luke's Gospel, Chapter 20, "The parable of the vineyard" is written as "The parable of the vinegar"!

11. St Peter, Hever dates from the 13thC, but the church was completely refitted in 1894. Its north-eastern chapel contains the very worn Purbeck marble tomb-chest of Sir Thomas Bullen (Anne Boleyn's father), and there is a fine brass of Margaret Cheyne (d.1419) in the raised chancel.
12. Hole Cottage is the remnant of a much larger medieval hall-house, the rest of which was demolished in 1833. It is managed as a holiday cottage by the Landmark Trust.
