

Wakes Colne to Bures walk

The Colne Valley, thatched cottages, brooks, farms, woods and undulating hills

The Colne valley

Length 17.7km (11.0 miles), 5 hours 30 minutes. For the whole outing, including trains, sights and meals, allow at least 9 hours 30 minutes.

Toughness 5 out of 10.

OS Maps Explorers 195 & 196 or Landranger 168. Chappel & Wakes Colne Station, map reference TL 897 288, is in Essex, 11km north-west of Colchester and 5km south of Bures.

Features This walk is delightful. Chappel & Wakes Colne, the station where the walk starts, is a railway museum on every side, with old carriages on display. The village and church at Chappel are a foretaste of the lovely architecture to come, along the Colne Valley, such as fine thatched barns and cottages and the neo-Tudor mansion of Colne Priory. The lunch pub at Colne Engaine is just past the church, and then the route follows the side of a fishing lake. Brooks, farms, woods and undulating hills lead into tea at one of the pubs in Bures.

Many walkers associate Essex with flat landscapes, surly pubs and badly maintained footpaths. This walk suffers only from this last failing – in summer, one 400 metre stretch near the end (just past point [8]) can be invaded by almost head-high nettles or vegetation, so wear long trousers and take a walking pole and compass if possible. Other paths on this walk can also be overgrown in high summer.

Since the last edition there have been some path diversions and a new route is now recommended between Chalkney Wood and Earls Colne. There is also a diversion around the golf course at Earls Colne.

Walk Options

Shortening the Walk

It is a short walk after lunch down to the main road (the A1124), where there are hourly buses going via Wakes Colne viaduct, which is just down the road from the station at which you began the walk; or call for a taxi from the lunch pub.

Lengthening the walk

If you are fit and would like a very long walk, try adding on Walk 8, Bures to Sudbury, (the shortened version, by-passing Bulmer Tye) to the end of this walk, making an excellent long walk of some 20 miles.

History

'Colne' is an old English word meaning 'roaring river', and thus there are Colne (or Calne) rivers in various parts of the country.

The station at Chappel & Wakes Colne forms the East Anglian Railway Museum (tel 01206 242 524). It is open daily from 10am to 4.30pm (or dusk if earlier). Admission (2020): General admission: £ 7.00; Special events, such as steam galas and Thomas the Tank Engine days: £ 10.00 to £ 15.00. The museum contains a cafe - The Chappel Station Cafe - and on Events days only its small pub - the Viaduct pub - opens. If you don't want to pay the admission fee you get to see a lot of museum's exhibits just coming off the train and there is a bookshop selling everything for railway enthusiasts. SWC Walkers who had a yearning to be a train driver when a youngster can attend full day or half day courses in driving a steam train !.

The impressive Chappel Viaduct, adjacent to the station, is the longest in East Anglia, 75 feet high and made with 7 million bricks. It opened in 1846.

The small church in Chappel dates from 1352, although it may incorporate earlier Norman work. In the fourteenth century, the local bishop granted indulgences - remissions of punishment for sins - to all who contributed to the church's repair. It has a tiny wooden steeple and is constructed of stone in the Early English style, with walls of flint rubble and dressings of cement and local materials.

Margery Allingham, the crime novelist, lived in the Chappel area. One of the local walks is named after her.

Colne Priory in Earls Colne was rebuilt with its high neo-Tudor chimneys by the enterprising local vicar in the 1940s.

The sarsen stones in the tower of St Andrew's Church in Colne Engaine are sandstone boulders brought down by ice in the glacial period and were probably previously used as ritual marker stones in a Stone Age temple on the site. Some of the other building material came from a Roman villa nearby. The church dates back to the early twelfth century and the reign of Henry I.

Travel	Take the train nearest to 9.30am from Liverpool Street Station to Chappel & Wakes Colne , changing at Marks Tey. Journey time 1 hour. Trains back from Bures are hourly, again changing at Marks Tey. Journey time about 1 hour 10 minutes. Note: Bures station is now a request stop [as of 2018]. You have to hail the train (as if it were a bus) for it to stop at Bures. Rail ticket - buy a day return to Bures (pronounced 'Bewers').
Lunch	The suggested lunchtime stop is the Five Bells pub (tel. 01787-224166) in Colne Engaine. Post Covid lockdown, August 2020, the pub is only open from Thursday to Sunday, with food served on Thursday to Saturday from 1 pm to 9 pm, and on Sunday from 1 pm to 7.30 pm. There is a good selection of cooked meals and snacks. Walkers are made welcome. The pub has informal eating areas, a separate restaurant area and a pub garden. Walkers should aim to leave the pub no later than 2pm in winter to avoid walking in the dark.
Tea	You have two options for tea in Bures, one in Essex and one in Suffolk. The nearest watering hole to the railway station used to be the Swan Inn, but this closed in October 2011 and is now a private dwelling. Around the corner from the former Swan Inn, in Colchester Street, Essex, is the Eight Bells pub (tel. 01787-227354), a Free House, open Monday to Fridays 11.30 am to 3 pm then 6 pm to 11.pm, Saturday and Sunday open all day for drinks (11.30 am to 11 pm), serving food from noon to 2 pm and from 7.pm to 9.30 pm. The pub has a beer gardens. Over the town bridge in Suffolk is the Three Horseshoes pub (tel. 01787-228303) which has a choice of real ales.
Updates	[All Editions] Use the online edition - diversion around a golf course. Latest updates, minor alterations September 2019. Post Covid lockdown pub opening times added August 2020.

Walk Directions

1. [1] After looking round the museum, exit Chappel & Wakes Colne Station via the booking hall; if the booking hall is closed or if you are not visiting the museum, follow the 'Way Out' sign at the end of the platform. Walk down the approach road, as it bears right and in 120 metres you come down to the road T-junction where you turn left into Station Road, going downhill into the village.
2. In 300 metres you come to a crossroads with the A1124 (formerly the A604), with the railway viaduct on your left-hand side and the general store opposite. Cross straight over the main road into the village of Wakes Colne on a road called The Street. In 30 metres cross the bridge over the River Colne and immediately beyond the bridge you pass the Swan Inn on the left-hand side.
3. In 130 metres, at the end of the houses on the right-hand side, ignore a public footpath sign pointing off to the left towards the viaduct. Opposite the sign, turn right off the road, down the surfaced car-wide track alongside the half-timbered Raynham House, your direction due west.
4. In 40 metres you pass the entrance to St Barnabas Chapel on the right-hand side. In 30 metres go through or pass to the left-hand side of a metal fieldgate. 75 metres further on, ignore a footbridge some 30 metres off to your right, going over the river. Continue straight on, pass a barn on your left-hand side and in 50 metres you come to a metal fieldgate and cross the stile to its left-hand side into a field. Continue straight on, slightly left, along the left-hand edge of the field, your direction 235°.
5. In 140 metres go through a wooden kissing gate in the left-hand corner and turn right into the next field. Follow the path towards the far side of the field in the same direction as before. In 70 metres you come to a footpath post (hidden in the hedge to your right), indicating the continuation of the path straight ahead, with the hedge on your right-hand side. In 60 metres further on go through a wooden kissing gate at the far side of the field and go straight on in the next field on a wide grassy path with a wire fence to your left and a hedge on your right.
6. In 200 metres go through a wooden kissing gate, cross a stony path and then a wooden bridge with a metal gate on its far side and keep ahead, your direction 255°. In 100 metres you come to the start of a lake on your right-hand side. In a further 120 metres you come to the far side of the field. Turn right through a metal gate down towards the lake and turn left down the path with the lake on your right-hand side. In 50 metres cross over a stream and then a wooden bridge with a metal gate on its far side into the next field. Follow the direction for the Colne Valley Path straight ahead along the left-hand edge of the field, with the trees now on your left-hand side.
7. [2] In 200 metres the fence goes sharply left, following the tree line. On the corner there is a footpath post and here [!] you leave the Colne Valley Path and turn left through the metal gate on a way known as the Marjory Allingham Walk.
8. Walk up the sunken footpath going along the edge of the wood, your direction 220° initially. In 120 metres, just before a footpath post, the path bears half right and then left, to continue on a bearing of 200°. In 100 metres you pass a footpath post on your right. In 50 metres, by another footpath post on your left, bend with the path round to the right, your direction now 195°, slightly uphill between trees, an open field beyond to your right-hand side. In 30 metres pass a footpath post on your right and keep ahead, uphill.
9. [3] In 180 metres at a path crossing you come to a footpath post with many arrows on your left-hand side. Turn right through the field boundary, pass a footpath post and head along the clear path going up and over the field, your direction 295° initially. In 100 metres you come down to the edge of a small lake and you follow the footpath sign straight ahead, around the right-hand side of the lake. Past the far side of the lake, carry straight on towards the gate ahead. In 90 metres pass through this metal gate into the next field. On your right-hand side, looking north, there is a fine view across the valley to a distant church spire. Your path continues straight ahead, down the field. 100 metres straight down the hill, go through a metal gate and then cross a wooden footbridge over a stream. Follow the footpath up the hill ahead, through the trees.
10. In 100 metres you come out to a lane T-junction. Turn right down the lane, your direction 30°. In 25 metres [!] turn left off the road, following a public footpath sign next to a wooden fieldgate part hidden by bushes, along a path into the trees, gently uphill, your direction 295° initially. In 80 metres you go through the remnants of a wooden fieldgate which used to have a sign on the gatepost welcoming walkers to Chalkney Wood (missing September 2019). In 80 metres the path converges with a wider track and you go straight ahead (slightly to the right), ignoring a way to the left, your direction 320° initially, now gently downhill. Ignore all ways off.
11. In 250 metres you come to a crossing of car-wide tracks. Take the right fork, gently downhill, your direction 340° initially.
12. In 250 metres you come down the hill towards a wooden fieldgate into a farmyard, with a farmhouse directly ahead. [!] Immediately before this fieldgate, turn left to cross a partially collapsed platform bridge to take a path through the woods along the edge of the field. Follow this path as it winds through woodland and scrub for about 150 metres, until you reach the hedge at the far end of this field, at a path crossing. Turn right over a ditch, via some planks, and use the stile to climb into the next field and carry straight on, your direction 340°, keeping the hedge on your right-hand side.
13. In 100 metres, on reaching the bottom right-hand corner of the field, ignore the other path coming in from the right. Turn left here and continue along the right-hand edge of the field, your direction 240° initially. In 170 metres you walk underneath an electricity pylon. 30 metres beyond the pylon, go through into the next field and continue straight on along its right-hand edge.

14. In 60 metres you come to the far, right hand corner of this field, with a number of metal fieldgates and rusted gates ahead [4].
15. Follow the field boundary to the left. In 30 metres turn right over a stile, cross a wooden footbridge with metal railings into a field, where you turn half right at a footpath post, to cross a field, and head towards a post and wire mesh fence on your right, your direction 315°. In 80 metres you come to this fence by a footpath post, with arrows pointing ahead and left. Here you have a choice of way: you can turn left across the field, direction 220°, in 250 metres going over a stile to turn right down Tey Road, in 650 metres arriving at the former Carved Angel pub, to continue at point 18. below.
16. But the recommended route is to keep ahead at this footpath post to walk along the fence [!] but note later you need to be on its other side. In 125 metres (and 25 metres before a metal field gate), with wooden fencing around a paddock on your left, turn right through a metal gate and bear left. In 25 metres go through a hotchpotch of gates and barriers and keep ahead along the edge of the field ahead (you are now on the other side of the field edge as required. Head towards the far left-hand corner of this field.
17. In 450 metres at this field corner, go through a metal gate and proceed along a fenced-in path, your direction 310°. In 120 metres come out onto a gravel drive, turn left for 15 metres to reach the main road, A1124 (formerly A604) and turn left.
18. In 175 metres you reach the junction with Tey Road on your left and with Oxford House function rooms ahead (previously the Carved Angel pub). Here turn right over the A1124 with Colne Priory directly ahead of you. Follow the public footpath sign along the side of Colne Priory. Walk along the footpath with a metal railing fence on your right-hand side and a hedge on your left. Soon you can see the church of Earls Colne on your left-hand side.
19. In 150 metres you come to a T-junction with a concrete path with a golf course ahead with its metal railings. Cross this path, go through a metal kissing gate onto a path, your direction 330 degrees. In 80 metres the path swings to the right in front of a metal fieldgate which used to provide access to and over a golf course. [!] The original route has been diverted around this course. Follow this grassy path to the right between hedges, your initial bearing 20 degrees, with the golf course on your left-hand side.
20. In 150 metres pass an electricity pylon on your right-hand side. In another 130 metres the path swings to the right. In 65 metres you come to the end of the golf course on your left, with the River Colne ahead of you. Turn left onto a slightly raised bank, your direction 325 degrees and keep ahead, with the river to your right and the golf course to your left.
21. The path follows the meanders of the river. In 350 metres the path on top of the bank comes to an end and you merge with a gravel golf path on your left.
22. In 200 metres, with a golf tee ahead, leave the golf path and turn right to head down to the river and follow the river along a grassy way as it swings to the left.
23. In 200 metres turn right to cross the river on a metal footbridge (the original route re-joins here). Once over the bridge turn half-left and in 60 metres go up and over the embankment of a dismantled railway line. On its far side turn left and in 40 metres turn right, with the river now on your left-hand side.
24. In 50 metres you pass a mini-weir (Earls Colne Gauging Station). After a further 120 metres, before the way ahead enters a field, bear right, your direction 330°, and in 30 metres you go across a three plank bridge through the hedgerow, and keep ahead - ignoring a fork to the right - to follow a lightly wooded path. In 130 metres you come out into a field, where you continue straight on along its left-hand edge, your direction 310°.
25. On your right-hand side, up the hill, you can now see the tower of St. Andrew's Church in Colne Engaine. In 140 metres the path crosses over into the next field and you keep ahead, now between fields, heading in the same direction as before, towards the right of a copse of trees directly ahead. 150 meters you come to the corner of this copse, where you keep ahead as the path bears slightly to the left, following the edge of the wood.
26. In 300 metres you come out on to a road at a T-junction. The road opposite is signposted to Buntings Green. Turn right up the road. (This is the official way, although there is a more pleasant, well-used local footpath that runs parallel to the road, to its right-hand side, which brings you to the church via a climb up a bank and over a football pitch.) But following the road uphill, ignoring ways off, you come into Church Street, following the sign for Pebmarsh and Bures. In 10 metres further on, you turn right off the road, through the entrance to St. Andrew's Church, Colne Engaine.
27. Walk straight through the churchyard, past the church entrance and straight down the path on the far side, down to the road. To your right is the Five Bells pub, the suggested lunchtime stop.
28. After lunch, come out of the pub and turn right. This is Mill Lane. In 80 metres you pass a turning on the left for Halstead and Earls Colne. Go straight on and in 60 metres you pass the village store and post office on your left-hand side. 20 metres beyond that, you come to the village green. Walk across the middle of the green and cross the road on the far side. Walk straight down the path ahead, between houses, your direction 15° initially. The path is indicated by a concrete public footpath sign which may be obscured by a bush.

29. In 150 metres you come out into the corner of a large, flat field and follow the clear path straight ahead along its right-hand edge. 300 metres further on, the path curves to your right, down on to a road. Turn left along the road, in the same direction as before.
30. In 270 metres, and some 50 metres before a brick farmhouse, [!] turn right off the road, cross over a stile to the left of wooden fieldgates, and keep ahead to go straight across a paddock. In 75 metres cross a stile in the wooden fence directly ahead of you and head down a grassy way between fenced-in paddocks, with a horse training ground (a manège) on your left-hand side. 65 metres further on, turn left over a stile in the corner of the field. Follow the path along the line of overhead cables, around the back of the manège.
31. In 40 metres turn right over a stile into the next field. Follow the path ahead along the right-hand side of the field, gently downhill, your direction 85°.
32. In 300 metres, the path swings right through a gap in the hedgerow into the adjoining field, where you immediately turn left to continue downhill, but now on the other side of the hedge. In 85 metres, near the bottom left-hand edge of this field, you have to cross over a ditch, to turn right over a concrete footbridge with metal railings across a stream. Go straight on through the trees, and 20 metres further on, you come out into a field next to a footpath post pointing to the left and right.
35. In 180 metres, at the end of this gravel track, turn right and in 10 metres - with a footpath post some 5 metres over to your right – [!] turn left to go between a gap in the hedge, passing a portaloo on your left, to continue ahead along a grassy path, with a hedge on your left and a large, open field on your right. In 400 metres you come to the far edge of the field. Turn right following the direction of the yellow pointer on a post along the hedgerow. In 40 metres, at a footpath post, turn left through the trees, and cross a stream, your direction 10° initially.
36. For the next 600 metres, follow an undulating footpath which is intermittently fenced on both sides, through woodland and open areas, until you reach a post on your left-hand side with many yellow arrows on it. (The far side of the post has faint arrows numbered 14 pointing to both left and right.) [!] 3 metres before this post, go right through a metal fieldgate (its left-hand edge hinged on another metal fieldgate) out of the wood to follow a footpath with a hedge on your left-hand side, your direction 90°.
37. In 200 metres, after a 60 metre long gap in the hedge which then resumes, you keep ahead, with the hedge on your left-hand side.
38. 150 metres beyond this [6], as the main route keeps ahead, you come to another footpath post and turn right, following the direction of the arrow. Walk with the edge of the field and trees on your left-hand side, gently downhill, your direction 140°.
39. In 160 metres you come to the far edge of the field. Cross over the stile into an open area with bushes to your left and right. Keep ahead, downhill, and in 25 metres cross over a grassy track. Ignore the tempting way to your left and instead [!] take the narrower path uphill and ahead, slightly to your right, coming to a footpath post in 30 metres, your direction 140°. Here swing left and take the path gently uphill along the left-hand side of the field, your direction 130° initially, with a hedge on your left and a low fence on your right. In 200 metres the path curves around to the left and takes you out to a road T-junction. [7] Turn left along the road, your direction 350°.
40. In 300 metres, where the road curves around to the left towards a pretty thatched cottage, turn right along the road signposted Valiants and Garlands Farms only.
41. In 170 metres you pass the entrance to Valiants Farm on your right-hand side. Follow the road as it continues around to the left, then right. 350 metres further on, ignore a public footpath sign pointing off to the left. In a further 180 metres you pass Garlands Cottage on your right-hand side.
42. Keep on this track, now gravel, following it round to the right, with ponds on your left-hand side, a drive lined with lime trees, until within 80 metres of the very substantial Garlands Farmhouse, at which point, by a footpath post, you turn left away from the track, opposite the first farm building, along the right-hand side of the farmhouse front garden, your direction 75°. In 35 metres bear right on a car-wide grassy path, your direction 145°, with a hedgerow separating the path from the farmhouse on your right-hand side. 90 metres further on, you come out into open fields and follow the grassy track as it continues along the left-hand edge of the field, your direction 105°, with a hedge on your left.

43. Ignore ways off and in 340 metres, you walk underneath overhead cables to reach the left-hand corner of the field. Go straight ahead for 10 metres through the trees into the next field and walk straight ahead along the right-hand edge of the field, your direction due east initially. Do not go down the track to the right into the trees.
45. In 180 metres, with a pretty thatched barn ahead of you on your right-hand side, you come to the left-hand corner of the field, to go down a couple of steps, cross some planks and come out on to a narrow country lane. Turn right along the lane and in 40 metres you pass the thatched barn and the entrance to a Polstead Farm on your left-hand side.
46. In 70 metres, turn left following the footpath sign, your direction 75°, between new trees on an alleyway between two fields, ignoring the field entrance on your left. In 200 metres you bear left, by a footpath post on your right, your direction 90°, a brick hut to your left-hand side. You make for the footbridge that is 90 metres ahead of you. Cross this wooden footbridge with metal railings.
47. Go over the stile on the far side of the bridge into a field. Keep ahead, your direction 80°, ignore the horse jump to your left and go through a gap in the fence where previously there had been a metal gate. Proceed uphill along the left-hand edge of the field with a hedge on your left towards a large farmhouse at the top of the hill. 150 metres up and over the brow of the hill, you can see a metal fieldgate on your right-hand side. Turn half-right across the field, towards the gate, your direction 120°. In 60 metres cross the stile to the right of the gate and walk through the gap in the wooden fence ahead.
48. Go straight ahead through the farm yard of Ravensfield Farm (marked on the OS map) between buildings towards double metal gates on the far side. When you get to the gates, turn right along the gravel drive down to the road T-junction. There may be peacocks in the garden on your right.
49. Turn left into the road and in 5 metres turn left again, with a sign saying 'Public byway', a car-wide path, your direction 20°.
50. In 200 metres you come out into a field and continue along the track on the right-hand side of the field in the same direction, with a hedge initially on your right.
51. Ignore all ways off and in 650 metres, you come out to a road T-junction where you turn left past the gateway into Horne's Green Cottage, a very pretty 1821 thatched cottage on your left-hand side. In 35 metres turn right down the road signposted to Lamarsh.
52. In 300 metres [8] turn right off the road, following the direction of a concrete public footpath sign, down a grassy car-wide track between two hedgerows and a ditch on your right, your direction 120°.
53. In 370 metres you come to a wooden footpath post pointing you straight ahead into the trees (can be hidden in undergrowth in summer). Follow the narrow footpath ahead through trees in the same direction as before. This rather nasty undulating footpath with an uneven footbed can be overgrown in summer and very muddy in winter.
54. In 400 metres you come out on to the edge of a field and by a footpath post, bear left on to a grassy farm track, to follow the direction of the tree-line away to your right, your bearing 90°.
55. In 160 metres you come to another footpath post and you follow its direction ahead. In a further 50 metres, as the track bears half left uphill, keep ahead. In 150 metres go up steps and come out on to a road at a T-junction. There is a grassy triangle at the junction and you follow the right-hand edge of the triangle to pick up the blue bridleway arrow pointing down the road ahead, your direction 75°.
56. 125 metres further on, you come to another T-junction, with a horse chestnut tree in the middle of the junction. Go right on a track downhill, signposted Ferriers Barn, your direction 140°. In 50 metres you pass Ferriers Barn on your right-hand side and carry straight on down the road.
57. 100 metres further on, you ignore the footpath going over a bridge to your right.
58. 450 metres further on, you come down to the bottom of the track and out on to a residential street T-junction. The sign to your left says "Lamarsh Hill". Turn right going into the village of Bures. In 50 metres you pass a turning on the right signposted White Colne, and go straight ahead under the railway bridge. After the bridge you pass Water Lane on your left. 25 metres beyond that is the turning on the right, The Paddocks, which takes you up to Bures Station.
59. If you wish to have tea in Bures, continue straight on down the road. 100 metres further on, you pass the other end of Water Lane on your left. After another 40 metres, you pass the former Swan Inn on your right-hand side. In a further 20 metres, at the junction with Colchester Road, turn right to get to the Eight Bells, your suggested "Essex" tea stop in Bures. For the Three Horseshoes, at the road junction with Colchester Road, keep ahead on Bridge Street, cross the town bridge over the River Stour, enter Suffolk, pass St Mary's Church on your right and turn right into Church Square, which swings left. The pub is on your left-hand side.
60. To return to Bures Station retrace your steps.
